

Building Bridges

As I was studying recently with one of my online students, my student asked, "Considering how bad our world is becoming, why doesn't God send His Son and start the Judgment Day? Why is He waiting?"

At that exact moment his question caught me off guard and I didn't know how to answer his question. It's true that our world is evil and getting more wrapped up in evil by the day. Just look at the evening news. Wars, shootings, drug problems, and prisons on the brink of overflowing are just some of the indicators of how bad our world is today.

In our local community, I look around and see the helpless being abused and misused. I look around and see people addicted to alcohol, gambling and drugs. I look around and see the foundation of marriage and the home being shattered with our culture's definition of marriage and family.

But then I look around and see my brothers and sisters here at 70 West making the difference. I see prayer being offered for many needs. I see people doing their best to live their lives as dedicated Christians. I see mission work being supported by the 70 West family. I see Bible classes being taught. I see meals being prepared. I see visits being made. I see many, many good works being completed, all to the glory of the Father!

After a few moments of reflecting on Hot Springs, I challenged my online student to look around and start COUNTING THE MANY BLESSINGS Christians are doing in his part of the world. I asked him to detail the good works he could see Christians were doing in his community. In just a few minutes he had a long list.

Why hasn't God sent His Son again? Maybe it's you and me. Maybe He's waiting for us to impact our 5. Maybe He's waiting for us to make the difference in one more soul. Maybe He's waiting for us to bring one more to His Kingdom.

It's a great joy and honor to serve the family that meets @70 West. It is my hope, it is my wish, it is my prayer that we all live for Jesus 24/7. May God bless you!
